02 — VIEW

The bay, the city, and Mt. Fuji beyond

Rainbow Bridge, the skyline of central Tokyo, and on clear days, Mt. Fuji. A view that rewrites itself every hour, from first light to the last glow of evening.

Day
Blue sea and the city skyline

Dusk
A sunset that colors the sky

Night
Rainbow Bridge and the bayside at night

Mt. Fuji and the setting sun
Over the city skyline

Toward Rainbow Bridge

Every room
leans toward the view

A 12.5-jo living and dining room, a 4.2-jo kitchen, and three bedrooms of 6.5, 5.2 and 5.0 jo.
Wide corner glazing frames the bay.

05 — STRUCTURE

Built to stay still when the earth moves

An isolation layer beneath the tower — laminated rubber bearings and dampers — keeps the shaking from reaching home, while damping walls inside absorb what energy remains.

Hybrid
Hybrid seismic isolation + damping

Fewer columns, living spaces that make the most of the view

Certified
Certified Long-Life Quality Housing

Durability, energy efficiency and accessibility

Eco
Certified Low-Carbon Building

HEMS, water-saving faucets and more

Energy
ENE-FARM + storage battery

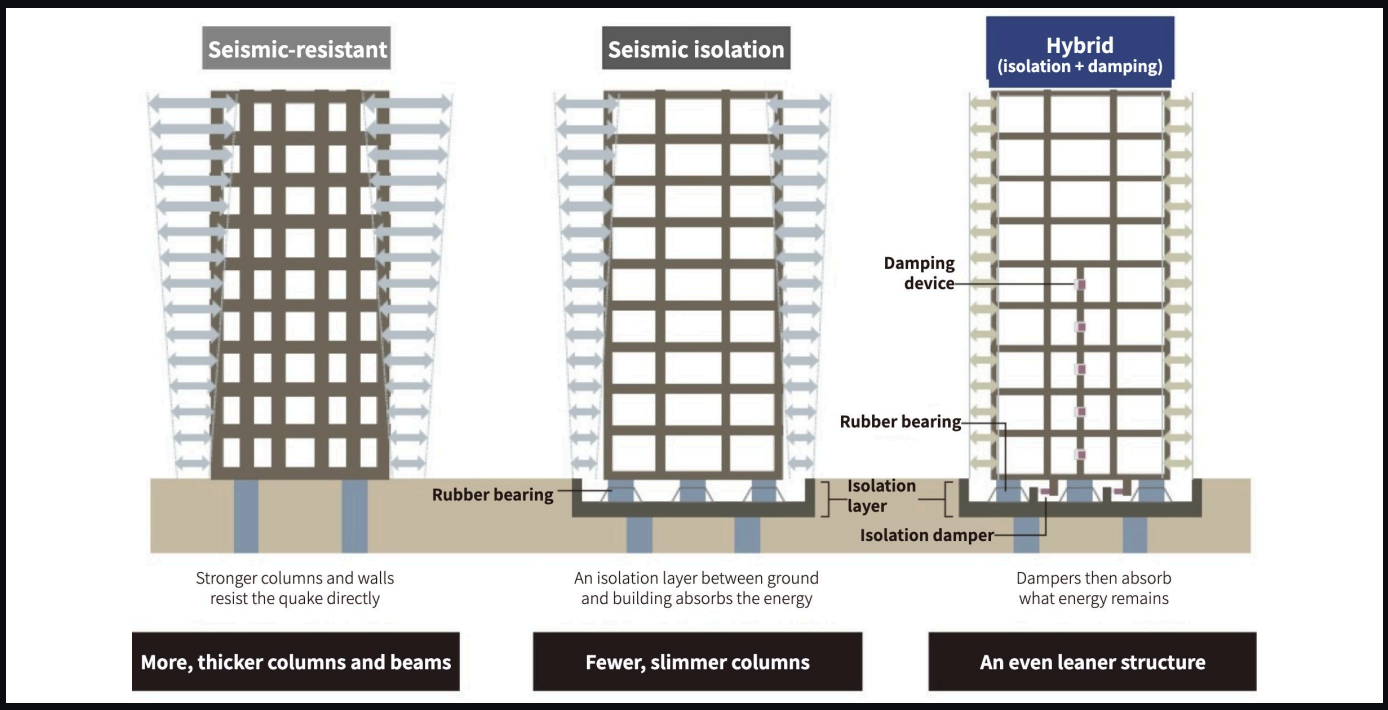

In every unit (a first in Japan for a condominium district)

Skeleton Infill
Skeleton-infill

Utility shafts placed outside the units

Ceiling
LD ceiling height approx. 2,600 mm

Window height approx. 2,100 mm, hallway width approx. 1,000 mm
